

1st AFF FOR A FACT / VALUE DEBATE

Good morning and thank you all for being here today. The resolution we are debating today is: state the resolution

ROADMAP: So that you know where I will be going in this debate, I will first frame the debate and then I will present the AFF case.

Today's resolution is a resolution of (choose one)

- Fact – we will prove the fact stated in the resolution is true
- Value – we will show that the value of is more important than.....

As you listen today, we believe that you need to judge the teams on which team offers: (choose one)

- the most net benefits – side w/most benefits
- the greatest impact – saves most lives or $.
- the preponderance of evidence – has most HARD facts to support the case
- strongest cost-benefit – most benefits for the lowest cost
- a moral imperative – a moral obligation to do this

and we believe that it will be the Affirmation who meets that judging criteria.

We define the following key terms:

We have very important reasons for supporting this resolution.

- Argument 1 – State it clearly
Give evidence
Show IMPACT – Explain importance to your case.
- Argument 2 – Do the same thing

Conclusion: The Affirmation has shown that ... (give SHORT summary of key points). A vote for the Affirmation is in order.

1st NEG for a FACT or VALUE DEBATE

Today we have been debating the resolution (state resolution you're debating). During this speech, I will explain why we are against this resolution.

ROADMAP: During the next 7 minutes, I will tell you why we disagree with the way the AFF framed this debate. Next I will present the Negation's case. Finally I will return to the Affirmation's case and show you why the Affirmation's arguments don't stand.

We do not like the judging criteria – explain why.

We do not believe the definition of terms are realistic. Explain why. Maybe discuss topicality

Now let me present the Negation's case. We have very important reasons for being against this resolution.

- Argument 1 – State it clearly
Give evidence
Show IMPACT – Explain importance to your case.
- Argument 2 – Do the same thing

Now let me turn to the Affirmation's contentions. (Here's the pattern you follow for EACH contention)

1. In their first contention they say
State their argument
2. But we would argue..... present your argument and your evidence
3. So this contention falls. – show how this impacts your case.

Conclusion: In the last 7 minutes, I have shown you why we need to shift to the Negation's definition of terms and I have presented some strong reasons to reject this resolution. Finally I explained why the Affirmation's contentions don't stand. A negative ballot is in order.

2nd AFF for a FACT or VALUE DEBATE

We have been discussing the important issue of (state resolution you're debating). During this speech, I will strengthen the Affirmation's position on the resolution.

ROADMAP: I will first discuss the negation's concerns with our definition of terms (if they had one), then I will address the contentions presented by the Negation, and finally I go back to the Affirmation's case and show why the responses of the Negation aren't significant. Let's begin.

If they argued your definitions) The Negation doesn't like our definition of terms because.....But this is why our definitions fit the resolution better.

Now let's turn to the contentions presented by the Negation. (Here's the pattern you follow for EACH contention)

1. In their first contention they say
State their argument
2. But we would argue..... present your argument and your evidence
3. So this contention falls. – show how this impacts your case.

Now let's go back to our Affirmation case. (Here's the pattern you will follow for each contention.)

1. Our first argument was
2. The Negation tries to tell you.....
3. But that isn't true because
Explain and give evidence
4. So the first contention still stands, and we have a reason to vote for the Affirmation. (This is the impact!)

Do this with each argument

Conclusion: We have shown why the Negation's contentions aren't significant, and how the Affirmation still has solid reasons – state each argument. A vote for the Affirmation is in order.

2nd NEG for a FACT or VALUE DEBATE

As the last constructive speaker in this debate, I will be spending my speech making clear the reasons why we must reject this resolution.

ROADMAP: I will discuss in this order the following areas: (choose those that apply)

- Our continued problems with the Definitions
- The rebuilding of the Negative case
- The weaknesses with the Affirmation's case

(If you disagreed with their definitions) We continue to be dissatisfied with the AFF's definitions. Here is why we feel you must accept the Negative's definitions: Explain your concerns and topicality argument

Now let's return to the Negative contentions where I will show you why the Affirmation's attacks aren't significant. Do the following with each argument:

1. Our first argument was ...
2. The Affirmation said....
3. We have two (or whatever number) responses

Do this with each argument.

Turn your flow back to the Affirmation's case so we can examine each contention again.

1. With argument 1, our attack was this...
2. They responded with
3. But (explain the problems you still have and give evidence etc.)

Do this with each argument.

So here's where we stand as we close out the constructives. We have several solid and unique reasons to vote down this proposal, and we have an Affirmative case that simply doesn't work. It's time to vote for the Negation.

NEGATIVE REBUTTAL – done by 1st Neg

Before the Negation finishes up today, I would like to take a moment to thank our judge, our opponents, and my teammate. We have appreciated the opportunity to hold this debate today. Thanks.

This is the last time that you will hear the negative team and it is our last chance to explain why it is necessary to vote down the resolution before us. I believe that there are four important and unique voting issues in this debate, any one of which would be reason enough to vote for the Negation. Our first voting issue is.... List your first voting issue. Explain its importance, show how it weakens the resolution, and show why any arguments the Affirmation presented against it aren't significant.

Our next voting issue.... Do the same thing as you did above. Continue to do this for all other voting issues.

In just a moment the Affirmation will stand up and tell you why they should win today's debate. They will probably tell you that these are the voting issues ...

First, they will claim that ... Put in here what you think will be one of their key arguments. Explain to the judge why your arguments have weakened it. Include things like:

- 1) It isn't significant
 - 2) It's already being handled by the status quo
 - 3) There was no evidence to support it.
 - 4) It doesn't link up to the resolution.
 - 5) It has harmful disadvantages
- Do this with each argument you think they will bring up.

Remember that the voting criteria in this debate was nets benefit. We have shown you why we get the most benefits by sticking with the status quo and the Negation. Vote Negative.

AFFIRMATION REBUTTAL – done by 1st Aff

As the last speaker in today's debate, I would be remiss in not thanking our judge, our opponents, and my teammate. We appreciate this opportunity to debate today.

Remember at the beginning of this debate, we told you that the judging criteria for this debate should be nets benefit (or insert whatever criteria you set.) In the last few minutes, I will show you why we have more net benefits that the Negation and thus more reasons to vote for the Affirmation.

Our first benefit ... (State your benefit. Explain why it still stands, why the Negation's attacks against it don't work. Do this for each benefit you have.)

Or if you are doing voting issues, say Our first voting issue is ... and do the same thing as you did above.

And now to the Negation's voting issues. On close examination, they do not stand up. Let's look at their first voting issue (or First net benefit.) (Summarize why it doesn't stand, where its weaknesses are, why it is not valid. If they brought up any new analysis on the argument, then tear that down.)

Do this with each of the Negative's voting issues. Be sure to stay organized.

As we end this debate today, we see that the Affirmation gives you 3 clear and distinct benefits (reasons) for adopting this resolution. The Negative fails to present any lasting benefits (reasons or voting issues). The US will be better off with the passage this resolution. Therefore, the decision must be a ballot for the Affirmation.

1st AFF FOR A POLICY DEBATE

Good morning and thank you all for being here today. The resolution we are debating today is: state the resolution

ROADMAP: First let me take a moment to frame this debate. This is a policy debate, so the Affirmation needs to present a plan. As you listen today, we believe that you need to judge the teams on which team offers: (choose one)

- the most net benefits – side w/ most benefits
- greatest impact – saves most lives or $.
- the preponderance of evidence – has most HARD facts to support the case
- strongest cost-benefit – most benefits for the lowest cost
- a moral imperative – a moral obligation to do this

and we believe that it will be the Affirmation who meets that judging criteria.

We define the following key terms: (Define each key word in the resolution.)

During the rest of my speech, I will give you our plan and then present the advantages it provides.

Here is our plan: Tell who, what, how, when)

We believe that there are several significant advantages to this plan over the status quo.

Advantage 1: State each advantage.

Structure it like this:

1. show problem in status quo,
2. Present the evidence,
3. Show how your plan solves,
4. Explain the impact – lives saved, money saved etc.

Advantage 2; So the same as you did for #1

Conclusion: The Affirmation has shown that ...(give SHORT summary of key points.) A vote for the Affirmation is in order.

1st NEG for a POLICY DEBATE

Today we are debating the resolution (state resolution you're debating). During this speech, I will explain why we are against it.

ROADMAP: In the next 7 minutes, I will tell you why we don't agree with how the AFF framed the debate. (Only put in if you don't agree with) the framing Then I will present the Negation's case. Finally I will return to the Affirmation's plan and advantages.

If you don't like judging criteria, say We do not like the judging criteria – explain why.

If you don't like definitions, say We do not believe the definition of terms are realistic (or follow the intent of the resolution.) Explain why. Give your own.

Now let me present the Negation's case. We have very important reasons for being against this resolution.

- Argument 1 – State it clearly; Give evidence; Show IMPACT
- Argument 2 – Do the same thing

The Affirmation presented a plan to implement this resolution, but we have problems with it (won't solve AFF contentions, creates new problems etc.)

Now let me turn to the Affirmation's advantages. (Here's the pattern you follow)

1. In their first advantage they say
State their argument
2. But we would argue..... present your argument and your evidence
3. So this contention falls. – show how this impacts your case.

Conclusion: I have presented some strong reasons to reject this resolution. Finally I explained why the AFF plan won't work and why their advantages don't stand. A negative ballot is in order.

2ND AFF FOR A POLICY DEBATE

We have been discussing the important issue of (state resolution).

During this speech, I will strengthen the Affirmation's position on the resolution.

ROADMAP: I will first discuss the negation's concerns with how we framed the debate, then I will address the contentions presented by the Negation, and finally I will go back our case and plan and show why the responses of the Negation aren't significant. Let's begin.

If you are debating the definitions, say The Negation doesn't like our definition of terms because.....But this is why our definitions fit the resolution better. State reasons

Now let's turn to the contentions presented by the Negation. (Here's the pattern you follow for EACH contention)

1. In their first contention they say
State their argument
2. But we would argue..... present your argument and your evidence
3. So this contention falls. – show how this impacts your case.

Let me handle their attacks on the Affirmation plan. (Answer each attack.)

Now let's go back to our Affirmation case. (Here's the pattern for each argument.)

1. Our first advantage was
2. The Negation tries to tell you.....
3. But that isn't true because
Explain and give evidence
4. So the first advantage still stands, and we have a reason to vote for the Affirmation. (This is the impact!)

Conclusion: So let's review – The Negation's contentions aren't significant, the Affirmation's case is still solid, and we have presented a workable plan that solves for the harms. Vote for the Affirmation.

2nd NEG for a POLICY DEBATE

As the last constructive speaker, I will be spending my speech making clear the reasons why we must reject this resolution.

ROADMAP: I will discuss in this order the following areas: (choose those that apply)

- Our continued problems with the Definitions
- The rebuilding of the Negative case
- Problems with the AFF plan and
- The weaknesses with the AFF advantages

We continue to be dissatisfied with the AFF definitions. Here is why we feel you must accept the Negative's definitions: Explain your concerns in relation to the resolution

Now let's return to the Negative contentions where I will show you why the Affirmation's arguments aren't significant. Do the following with each argument:

4. Our first argument was ...
5. The Affirmation said....
6. We have two (or whatever number) responses

Now turn your flow back to the AFF plan and see why it still won't work. Explain the problems you still have with the plan.

Finally let's examine the AFF's case so we can examine each contention/advantage.

4. With argument 1, our attack was this...
5. They responded with
6. But (explain the problems you still have and give evidence etc.)

Do this with each argument.

So here's where we stand as we close out the constructives in this debate. We have solid reasons to vote down this proposal, and we have an Affirmative case & plan that simply doesn't work. It's time to vote for the Negation.

NEGATIVE REBUTTAL – done by 1st Neg

Before the Negation finishes today, I would like to take a moment to thank our judge, our opponents, and my teammate. We have appreciated the opportunity to hold this debate today. Thanks.

List your first voting issue. Explain its importance, show how it weakens the resolution, and show why any Affirmation attacks on it aren't significant.

Our next voting issue.... Do what you did above for all other voting issues.

And our last voting issue is– The Affirmation plan isn't good because list them.

In just a moment the Affirmation will stand up and tell you why they should win today's debate. They will probably tell you that these are the voting issues ...

First, they will claim that ... Put in here what you think will be one of their key benefits. Explain to the judge why your arguments have weakened it. Include things like:
1) It isn't significant
2) It's being handled by the status quo
3) There was no evidence to support it.
4) There is no causal link.
5) It has harmful consequences Do this with each argument.

Remember that the voting criteria in this debate was nets benefit. We have shown you that we get significantly more benefits by sticking with the status quo and the Negation. Vote Negative.

AFFIRMATION REBUTTAL – done by 1st Aff

As the last speaker in today's debate, I would be remiss in not thanking our judge, our opponents, and my teammate. We appreciate this opportunity to debate today.

Remember at the beginning of this debate, we told you that the judging criteria for this debate should be nets benefit (or insert whatever criteria you set.) In the last few minutes, I will show you why we have more net benefits than the Negation and thus more reasons to vote for the Affirmation.

Do this with each of the Negative's voting issues. Be sure to stay organized.

And if they attacked your plan, say Their last voting issue was about our plan Rebuild your plan.

As we end this debate today, we see that the Affirmation gives you 3 clear and distinct benefits (reasons) for adopting this resolution. The Negative fails to present any lasting benefits (reasons or voting issues). The US will be better off with the passage of this resolution.
